CHURCH ACCESIBILITY

As the Church Council will be reviewing the church administrator role prior to looking to hire a replacement, ready access to the church building or answering the phone may be more sporadic as the pastor's primary responsibilities do not always lend to consistent office hours. Although Pastor Kevin is often at the church building, it is good to call ahead or contact his cell number if you need something from the church office and arrangements can be made. Please email any bulletin items to the church email by Thursday if you wish them to be in the bulletin. Although not all administration tasks will carry on the same way in the interim, we will try to assist our ministries and congregation administratively as possible. If no answer at the church, please leave a message or send an email and Pastor Kevin will attend to it when back in the office and available. Please leave messages or email on Mondays as Pastor Kevin will not be attending to administrative issues on Mondays and will only be available for emergencies. The Church Council is hoping to fill the office administrator position by the Fall. Thank you.
